While Dr. C. J. Smith was in Salem recently, a man came up to him and said: "You are from Pendleton, are you not?" Dr. Smith pleaded guilty to the charge and asked the man if he had ever lived there. "Yes, I stayed there a while some time ago. I lodged at the Bird House," he answered. Dr. Smith scratched his head and finally said questioningly: "The Bird House? where is the Bird House?" "I don't seem to remember any Bird House in Pendleton," said Dr. Smith. "Why, the proprietor named it after himself. He is a heavy-set little man with a gray mustache." "Oh, you mean the Renn Lodging House," said Dr. Smith, as a great light broke upon his understanding. "That's it, that's it. I knew it was some kind of a bird. I guess it was the Renn House."

NEEDED MONEY.

Claims He Did Not Make Misrepresentations.

By representing himself as a son of G. W. Hunt, builder of the W. & C. R. railway, Martin Hunt this morning succeeded in borrowing money from W. S. Byers and F. B. Clifton. It was later found that the man was not a son of G. W. Hunt, and Clifton secured his arrest on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The prisoner declared he said he was a son of T. W. Hunt and not G. W. Hunt.

Young Hunt secured $3 from Clifton and $3.50 from Byers. He says he needed money and was not attempting to deceive anyone when he asked for the loans. When first arrested he gave his name as Martin, and later said it was Martin Hunt. He is about 25 years of age and of rather pleasing appearance. He is a stranger in Pendleton.

Hunt was tried in the justice court this afternoon and sentenced to three months in the county jail.

Lot's Wife.

There is a certain little girl who is very fond of Lot Livermore. She always calls him Lot and apparently he is the only Lot of which she knows. Recently while in Sunday school, her Sunday school teacher desired to impress her with the importance of obedience, and said: "Lot's wife was turned to a pillar of salt because she did not obey the Lord." Noticing the shocked expression on the little girl's face, the teacher said: "Wasn't that sad?" "My, wasn't Lot feel bad," said the little girl; "and Mr. Livermore is such a nice man, too."

Two Schools Close.

Miss Anice Barnes has closed a three month's session of school in district 55, and forwarded her report to the county superintendent. There are nine pupils in the district, which is in the foothills, three miles from Weston. School has also been closed in district 21, Miss Adelle Darr, teacher. There were 20 pupils in the school.

PILES

"I have suffered with piles for thirty-six years. One year ago last April I began taking Cascarets for constipation. In like manner I pushed the pills down to disengage and at the end of six weeks they did not trouble me at all. Cascarets have done wonders for me. I am entirely cured, and feel like a new man."
